

Dr. Doug McDougall

Professor
Ontario Institute for Studies in Education
University of Toronto

Dr. Doug McDougall is professor and chair of the Department of Curriculum, Teaching and Learning at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto. He has been an elementary and secondary school teacher of mathematics and computer science. He has taught in both pre-service teacher education and graduate programs. His graduate courses include “Mathematics in Elementary Schools” and “Computers in the Curriculum.” In addition, he also teaches in the Master of Teaching program.

His scholarship, teaching, and creative professional activity program focus on mathematics teaching and learning, collaborative teacher inquiry, the professional learning of teachers, technology-supported learning, and academic leadership. This work has been supported by research grants from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC), two grants from the Literacy and Numeracy Secretariat (Ontario Ministry of Education), a Nelson Publishing research grant, one Learning Consortium grant, two Ministry of Education Transfer grants, two school district research grants, and one Ministry of Education Implementation grant. In total, he has been awarded $631 048 of external funding. He has also received $35 066 in internal grants from SSHRC Institutional grants, University of Toronto funding, and other departmental sources.

Dr. McDougall has served in leadership roles at the University of Toronto as Chair (2010-present) and Associate Chair (2005-2007) of the Department of Curriculum, Teaching and Learning, program coordinator of the Master of Teaching program (2000-2009), director of the Centre for Science, Mathematics and Technology Education (2009-2010), as well as chair of numerous department and university committees.

He have served as the Chair and member of the Steering Committee for the Psychology of Mathematics Education – North American (PME-NA), the chair of the PME-NA annual meeting (2004) in Toronto, and chair of working groups in AERA, Canadian Mathematics Education Study Group (CMESG), PME-NA, Fields Mathematics Education Forum, and Ontario Association of Mathematics Educators (OAME).

Profile:

http://www.oise.utoronto.ca/ctl/Faculty_Staff/Faculty_Profiles/1223/Douglas_McDougall.htm