

Research and Evaluation

Developing a research base for promising practices is a crucial part of the Ministry of Education's student achievement strategy. This knowledge enables the ministry to adapt, improve and revise its strategy over time – to take an approach to the use of evidence in practice referred to as “learning as we go.” Under the leadership of the Research, Evaluation and Capacity Building Branch, extensive reviews are undertaken of both ministry initiatives and the Student Achievement Division as a whole.

[Literacy and Numeracy Secretariat \(LNS\) Initiatives \[infographic\]](#)

LNS Year in Review: A Reflection on Shared Successes and Challenges, 2013–14

Summer Learning Program 2014: Program Monitoring for Accountability